

Feedly

Keep up with your favorite blogs, publications, and YouTube channels with Feedly.com

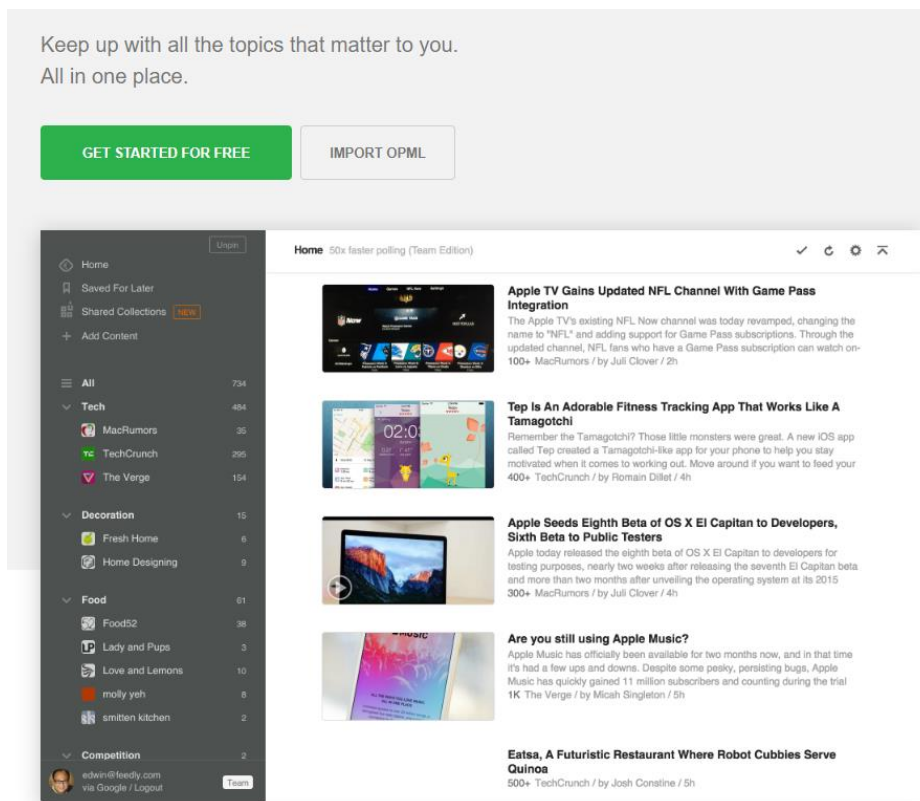

I'm often asked how I keep up with what's new in educational technology. One way I do this is through Feedly. I use Feedly to subscribe to several of my favorite websites and blogs in one place. Plus, I can use it on my desktop, laptop, or phone, as it has an Android app.

To begin a Feedly account, go to www.feedly.com and sign in with Google or email account. (it is a Google tool)

Start creating your content collection by picking a topic or source you would like to add to your feedly account. You can browse through some of the topics or enter your favorite website and choose the Add feedly button on the top.

Add it to a collection you name. Then click Add. It will now be on the left hand side in your collection. Continue to add more and you will accumulate a site in which you can view all of your favorite information on one site.
